In this day and age, there is an overwhelming amount of information consumers can find for nearly any topic. They may be interested in visiting Croatia but it can become quickly overwhelming to remember the important information to begin their research or travel planning. This is where travel agents are able to save our clients hours of time and research due to our knowledge of a specific region.

As destination specialists, it has become our passion to distill this information into exactly what each specific traveler wants to hear. This approach to planning personalized travel arrangements has resulted in a growing demand for our services in Croatia and the surrounding region. No matter if we receive questions about a custom itinerary, a group trip to Croatia, or an island-hopping cruise, Adventures Croatia will

Local Knowledge

Why work with our team over the other guys? Well, the passion that drives Adventures Croatia stems from our passion for the country itself. Our team of travel experts are either full-blooded Croatia, of Croatian descent, or have lived in the region - or a combination of all three! Due to our decades of experience working in the region, our knowledge extends far beyond the best cities and restaurants to visit, to the smaller intricacies of traveling in this part of Europe.

More than just a Croatian travel agency, we are a tour operator specializing in Croatia (and the surrounding countries) with offices and staff in both Croatia and the US. We love Croatia and want to make sure you get the best, most authentic experience possible! We get more excited about Croatia with each new booking – each reservation renews our passion for the region. Our imaginations go wild with the endless possibilities and adventures we can create for our clients!

Exclusive Adventures

Yearly, our team discovers new and exciting ways to explore the Balkans. We are able to add these new ideas to our repertoire and by giving individual attention to learn our customers' interests, our recommendations will be truly hand-selected to create the ideal itinerary.

Our packages are exclusive to us and you would be hard-pressed to find the same activities and hotels elsewhere. We take our travelers to a truffle hunt in Istria, reserve a cooking class with a restaurant owner, or ziplining over the sea; after the exciting days, we book them into our favorite boutique 4* and 5* hotels to relax and unwind.

Personalization

Cookie-cutter trips are not in our wheelhouse. We want our travelers to feel authentic Croatia through immersive experiences and exquisite local dining. Now, everybody may have a different idea of what this means to them, and our team of travel experts typically spend hours speaking to each client to build their personalized itinerary.

We listen to their interests before the planning begins and no matter the intricacies, we know the country well enough to find the perfect solutions.

We're always there for our clients

Our ground team in Croatia is highly experienced with all aspects of our travel arrangements, and can easily handle making last-minute changes if necessary. It may happen that the weather affects pre-scheduled plans, but since we have staff located in the country, no one needs to worry about their time being lost if something inadvertently goes wrong.

Our 24-hour concierge and in-Croatia assistance are invaluable resources. Whether clients get lost while walking around or can't find their passport, our local team will take care of everything. It's a service you don't know you want until you need it!

Save time and money!

Like a personal shopper, our destination knowledge can provide a one-stop-shop for all questions regarding Croatia and its neighbors. Instead of spending time searching through countless blogs and endless travel information, clients can pick up the phone and simply ask our team all of their questions.

We're here to save our clients money as well. Due to our strong working relationships with various local suppliers and staying constantly up-to-date with new trends, we can guarantee the best value trip when planning with Adventures Croatia.

As another layer of confidence, we like to show and showcase our network and certifications that signify we are some of the best in the business. Adventures Croatia is a member of ASTA (the Association of Travel Advisors) guaranteeing high-level industry standards, knowledge, and training. Our Travel Advisors absolutely love what they do, and their passion will shine through as they speak to our customers and planning their getaway.

How else do you know we are the best? Our consistent 5-star reviews from every traveler returning home, make us proud in the services we offer. Feel free to peruse our reviews on Trust Pilot or Trip Advisor, if you want to see why each specific traveler went home with life-long memories.

Adventures Croatia works with both individual clients and Travel Agents looking to perfect their Croatian vacations. If you want to guarantee a trip of a lifetime, you can ask Adventures Croatia for a quote or reach out to our team of knowledgeable Destination specialists whenever you wish.
